

4. Draw the mechanism that accounts for the formation of the product under the conditions shown. You may not add any other reagents. Be sure to show: all intermediate structures that occur in the course of the mechanism, any important resonance structures that play a role in the process, what if anything is added or lost in each step, and all formal charges on the structures.

